WHY DO WE NEED ONE?

Your doctor's surgery needs a privacy notice to make sure it meets the legal requirements which are written in a new document called the General Data Protection Regulation (or GDPR for short).

A privacy notice helps your doctor's surgery tell you how it uses information it has about you, like your name, address, date of birth and all the notes the doctor or nurse makes about you in your healthcare record

WHAT IS GDPR?

GDPR standard for General Data Protection Regulation and helps your doctor's surgery keep the information about you secure. It was introduced in 2018, making sure that your doctor, nurse and any other staff at the practice follow the rules and keep your information safe.

This information can be read by the healthcare professional to improve the patients care, but they are not able to amend the GP medical record.

Remember we told you about the GDPR? Well, if you want to see what is written about you, you have a right to access the information we hold about you, but you will need to complete a Subject Access Request (SAR). But if you are over 12, you may be classed as being competent and you may be able to do this yourself.

HOW THE NHS USE YOUR INFORMATION-NATIONAL DATA OPT-OUT

The Practice is one of many organisations working in the health and care system to improve care for patients and the public.

Whenever you use a health or care service, such as attending Accident & Emergency or using Community Care services, important information about you is collected in a patient record for that service. Collecting this information helps to ensure you get the best possible care and treatment.

The information collected about you when you use these services can also be used and provided to other organisations for purposes beyond your individual care, for instance to help with:

- improving the quality and standards of care provided;
- research into the development of new treatments;
- preventing illness and diseases;
- monitoring safety;
- planning services.

This may only take place when there is a clear legal basis to use this information. All these uses help to provide better health and care for you, your family and future generations. Confidential patient information about your health and care is only used like this were allowed by law.

Most of the time, anonymised data is used for research and planning so that you cannot be identified in which case your confidential patient information isn't needed.

You have a choice about whether you want your confidential patient information to be used in this way. If you are happy with this use of information you do not need to do anything. If you do choose to opt out your confidential patient information will still be used to support your individual care.

To find out more or to register your choice to opt out, please visit www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters. On this web page you will:

- See what is meant by confidential patient information
- Find examples of when confidential patient information is used for individual care and examples of when it is used for purposes beyond individual care
- Find out more about the benefits of sharing data
- Understand more about who uses the data
- Find out how your data is protected
- Be able to access the system to view, set or change your opt-out setting
- Find the contact telephone number if you want to know any more or to set/change your opt-out by phone
- See the situations where the opt-out will not apply

You can also find out more about how patient information is used at:

- <https://www.hra.nhs.uk/information-about-patients/> (which covers health and care research); and

- <https://understandingpatientdata.org.uk/what-you-need-know> (which covers how and why patient information is used, the safeguards and how decisions are made)

You can change your mind about your choice at any time.

Data being used or shared for purposes beyond individual care does not include your data being shared with insurance companies or used for marketing purposes and data would only be used in this way with your specific agreement.

Health and care organisations have until 2020 to put systems and processes in place so they can be compliant with the national data opt-out and apply your choice to any confidential patient information they use or share for purposes beyond your individual care.

Stockwood Medical Centre is currently compliant with the national data opt-out policy.

LEGAL JUSTIFICATION FOR COLLECTING AND USING YOUR INFORMATION

NECESSARY CARE: Providing you with the appropriate healthcare, where necessary. The Law refers to this as 'protecting your vital interests' where you may be in a position not to be able to consent.

LAW: Sometimes the Law obliges us to provide your information to an organisation.

WHAT DO YOU DO IF YOUR ARE NOT HAPPY WITH HOW WE HAVE HANDLED YOUR INFORMATION?

We really want to make sure you're happy, but we understand that sometimes things can go wrong.
